

Turning Ideas into Actions

Transformative Projects

Break the Cycle: Economic Opportunity

Support small businesses by providing individualized guidance & opportunities to future small business owners.

Provide opportunities for those with agricultural skills to make a living from that specific skill set. Develop a future partnership with local non-profits and Amarillo College to create urban agriculture programs.

Create strategies for Eastridge residents to work at nearby major employers outside of the meat-packing industry.

Create a childcare training program to meet childcare needs and provide business opportunities.

Put the Pride Back: Housing

Establish a target revitalization area between Amarillo Boulevard and Eastridge Elementary to coordinate and direct simultaneous beautification, code enforcement, and public safety initiatives in order to see visible change.

Educate residents about code requirements and the enforcement process.

Leverage new commercial development in the area to facilitate quality, new home construction.

Explore all available tools for improving the conditions of existing owner and renter-occupied housing with other neighborhood partners and the City of Amarillo.
